

51st Year for Grayling Winter Sports Festival

[By Mike Steele, Chamber Mgr.]

Today marks the beginning of the second half century of Grayling's Winter Sports Carnival, the grand-daddy of all Michigan's winter festivals. In its 51st year the community of Grayling is being honored by the state as an "Embassy of Michigan Tourism". It is something to be proud of, and to enjoy.

"Silent Cal" Coolidge was President in 1925 when the first Winter Sports Festival was held in Grayling. It was, and is, a winter celebration for the entire community ... a chance for folks of all ages to snap out of their winter doldrums for a few days.

It didn't take too long for the word to get around, and soon people from Michigan's southern towns were headed to Grayling on the "snow trains" for a weekend of winter fun. If you did not come north on the snow train, you just did not come ... for cars were unreliable in cold weather and roads were often impassable.

In 1925 snow sleds were wooden rigs with smooth runners, not the self propelled, high powered machines of today. Sleds, toboggans, and skates were the order of the day. Skiing was a rather unique sport enjoyed by those rugged enough to climb hills on foot, and brave enough to slide down on wooden skis with leather bindings.

Ice and Snow sculptures were true works of art, which took hours of work, and buckets of sweat. It was a community function, to be enjoyed by all.

Things have really changed since that 1st Winter Carnival in 1925 ... or have they? As a celebration of our past and present let's enjoy our 51st Winter Sports Carnival ... participate!

Special Ski - Potluck Night At Bear Mountain Thursday

[By Mike Steele, C.C. Mgr.]

If you are tired of looking at the same four walls every time you sit down to eat, the Winter Sports Carnival has an event you will want to attend. The Potluck Dinner/Ski Night, 6:00 p.m. on Thursday, February 5th, will be an evening filled with good food and skiing. If you have never skied, here is the perfect opportunity to try.

The evening will begin at 6:00 p.m. in the warming lodge at the Grayling Winter Sports Park. To insure a variety of food, in sufficient quantities each family is asked to bring a dish that will feed a group twice as large as their family. Those families with the last name beginning with the letter A-I are asked to bring a meat dish or casserole, J-R a vegetable, and S-Z a dessert.

Each person is asked to bring their own place settings and beverage, no alcohol please.

There will be a slight reduction in the tow ticket price: Adult $2.50 equipment, $1.00 tow ticket; Children $2.25 equipment, $1.00 tow ticket.

Hope to see you out for the kick off of the 51st Winter Sports Carnival. A weekend of true community involvement.

Lose to Blazers-Saints

Rogers City Here Friday

With only four games remaining, the Grayling Vikings are still looking for their first victory of the season before entering tournament play at Roscommon the first week in March.

It has been just one of those years, coach Fred Wolcott said, the guys have hustled all the way, and have never given up. A couple games that were close, had we won them, it could have turned things all around for us, he added.

In their last two outings, the Vikings dropped a 73-61 non-league contest to Kalkaska, and a 112-84 decision to St. Ignace in M-HSC action.

Friday night the Vikings will entertain the Rogers City Hurons in a league contest, with the next encounter with the Northmen at Petoskey, Feb. 13th.

Craig Hinkle and Perry Papendick finished with 14 points each, and Mike Money right behind with 13 to hit double digits against the Blue Blazers.

Rev. Frederick was assigned to the Michelson Memorial Church on October 15, 1969. During his ministry in Grayling the Church has made significant strides in membership and financial growth, has added additional staff persons, and has been a service to the community. He has served on numerous committees for the school, Camp Shawano, Rotary and the Grayling Centennial Celebration.

Mrs. Frederick has served as Grayling Co-op Nursery teacher, lead teacher of the Grayling Headstart Center, and has substituted in the school system. She has also been on the District Girl Scout Council as 3rd Vice President. Their family also includes: Shannon, Russell, Robin and Timothy.

Church is planning an Open House on Sunday, February 22nd from 2 to 5:00 p.m. in the Church Basement for those who would like to come and formally say farewell to the Frederick Family. He will preach his final sermon in Grayling at the 8:30 and 11:00 o'clock services on the 22nd of this month too.

Seek Comments on AuSable-Manistee

Kenton P. Clark, Forest Supervisor for the Huron-Manistee NF, has announced that the U.S. Forest Service is inviting all interested individuals and organizations to comment on issues involving the management of the AuSable and Manistee Rivers, and their tributaries.

"The study of the two rivers, which began January 2, 1976, will be made to determine if they qualify for inclusion in the Wild and Scenic River System," Clark commented. "One of the first and most important things that we need to determine is how the public feels about the rivers. There are perhaps existing problems or issues they know about that we will need to analyze and evaluate as part of the study. I strongly urge anyone interested in doing so, to express their views now so that they can be given early consideration."

The study, which is being done jointly with the Department of Natural Resources, will cover various social, economic, and environmental aspects of the rivers. The Forest Service has been designated the head agency for making the study.

Parties interested in expressing their view can do so by writing to the Forest Supervisor, Wild and Scenic River Study, 421 South Mitchell Street, Cadillac, Michigan 49601. Replies should be mailed by February 28, 1976.

Snowmobile Safety Classes Name the Same, Identity Not

Those who successfully complete the course will receive their certificates on Friday.

The safety classes, designed by the Department of Natural Resources are aimed at those youngsters who need the safety certificate so that they may operate snowmobiles without adult supervision. Sheriff Harold Hatfield states that out of all the reported snowmobile accidents for the last two years, over 90% of those involved never had any safety training.

The course is open to anyone but enrollment will be limited to 25 students. Also to qualify for the certificate, students must be at least 12 years of age. The class is free of charge and for more information contact Deputy Coe or Deputy Hemming at 348-6341.

5 MINUTES TO GRAYLING ON THE AUSABLE

ARCHERY CAPITOL  OF THE WORLD

Why Bear Archery Wants To Stay in Grayling

$5,500,000 Million Dollars a year is put into the Grayling Economy each year by Bear Archery—that's over $100,000 a week. In our 1976 Catalog we are telling our customers around the world why we are located in Grayling, Michigan—a very unpractical place to be considering raw materials, shipping, mail, accessibility and delivery time. Yet this is where Fred Bear chose to locate ... because he loved the area, because he enjoyed and felt comfortable working with and for the people. Bear Archery wants to continue this relationship in Grayling and doesn't want anyone to jeopardize their position in the community. We thought our neighbors in Grayling should read the Introduction pages from our 1976 Bear Archery Catalog. It is reprinted below.

Dear friend:

Those of us who work at Bear Archery take care and pride in the products we handcraft for your enjoyment. And we try our best to provide you with the finest archery equipment you can get anywhere. We hope that when you have read through this booklet you will have a better idea of who we are and why we take such pride in what we do.

Bear Archery is located in the AuSable River Valley formed some 12,000 years ago when the last glaciers left this area. We are about 75 miles south of the tip of lower Michigan and 220 miles north of Detroit, in the center of the state. Another great river, the Manistee, is just west of town.

Grayling grew up on an ancient Indian portage from the Manistee to the AuSable and the deposits of arrow and spear heads in the area suggest an Indian battle-ground or factory, or both. The AuSable is one of the three most famous trout streams in America and in days gone by drew fishermen from around the world after its renowned Grayling — a cold water species of Trout. When the area was logged over about 100 years ago the small village which sprang up along Milepost 92 of the Jackson, Lansing, and Saginaw railroad was named for this great game fish. (A small settlement earlier had simply been called "Forest".) Grayling was a milltown and each year in August we celebrate our lumberman's heritage with a Mill-Town Festival.

When the Timber went and the stream was no longer shaded by the towering White Pine and giant red Norways the water temperature went up. That coupled with the destruction of the spawning beds by the log drives down the river ended the AuSable as a home for our world famous Grayling. Yet, Brown, Rainbow and Brook Trout live and thrive in its sporting, cool depths. The Stream has several branches. The River runs through town where it is joined by the East Branch and further downstream by the South and North Branches and empties into Lake Huron a hundred miles away in the town including the county jail.

Seeing the black squirrel at your window feeder can start the day off with unexpected pleasure. Or seeing the Blue Heron take off in the early morning fog from the lumberjack's Old Stump Pond on your way into town are among the fringe benefits resulting from living in the 'North Country' and you might think of them off and on all day.

Not only are we aware of our close relationship to nature up here but as in all small towns we are extremely aware of how we as individuals tend to be interrelated.

We have a weekly newspaper with local news in it and depend upon papers from "down below" from our national and world news. The closing of business places when a time-honored citizen is buried, the 4th of July Parade, the late fall Buck Pole, the quiet dusk on the trout stream — all are Norman Rockwell and Andrew Wyeth slices of life.

We dislike pretentiousness most of all, and then greed, bad manners and disrespect for nature. We accept people for what they are and are grateful to the power company foreman who comes to replace the line we downed with our new chain saw because he understood our embarrassment at having caused the power blackout in half the town including the county jail.

Important social events of the year include the DNR Hearing on removing the historical Old Loggers Dam in town or a heated Town Hall meeting on whether there are too many canoeists on the river or too many trout fishermen standing in their way in the stream. A local high school basketball game with boys of such talent might be found in any town of 2000 population takes on exciting importance because you know that little else is going to happen during that long mid-winter week.

There are a few of us who are doctors or lawyers or policemen, but for the most part we either work for the largest plant in the area ("The Archery" with 500 employees) or for the Department of Natural Resources, the local National Guard Camp or we own a motel or restaurant or souvenir store.

We become acutely aware of everyday scenes around you in this quiet, country town. You notice that the Red Oak leaves stay on all winter until the new leaf appears in the spring. You notice the blue snow at dawn as you drive into work. There is no pollution up here other than that caused by the dreaded forest fire that occasionally darkens the evergreen skyline. You notice the dry winter atmosphere and the fact that 30 degrees below zero really isn't too uncomfortable. And you delight in the sudden display of the Aurora Borealis, a back drop for the crystal clear scattering of stars that seem so close in this black, northern sky.

We read every word in the Crawford County Avalanche as soon as it comes out each week. Want ads, Board of Commissioners Meeting Minutes, Trout Unlimited Minutes, Camp Shawano Minutes and the little bit of news that we have quite likely already heard.

The Village Buck Pole that the members of the Chamber of Commerce promote each open weekend of Deer Season attracts us, as well as the tourist hunters gaping at the size of the antlers on display for all to admire. It would be hard to find a freezer up here that didn't have some venison, brown trout or partridge hidden away in it for that special northern evening meal.

We commiserate together every summer when the short growing season fails to produce the succulent sweet corn or luscious tomatoes that we yearned for during the late spring snows. Yet, we'll try again next year, willing to gamble a few cents for seeds on the off chance that one of these years we'll have a warmer summer.

We love the lonely, lovely winter evenings when we run our four wheel drive into town to exchange books at the small County Library. Now we know that it is the dead of winter. We are between skiing-snowmobiling season and trout-trailblaze season and the land, in its frozen, frightening simplicity, is ours at last to enjoy all alone. Few tourists ice fish or wander through the swamp on Sunday afternoons after snowshoe rabbits or walk the snow covered old loggers trails deep within the forests. We listen to the crackling poppies talk to us competing with the chattering chickadees and worrying purple finches overhead.

Our group of 2000 can swell overnight to 20,000 when the "Guards" are here for summer camp, when they mingle with the tourists and clog the beaches and perspire in their yearly refresher course in the north.

During free time they congregate in the Plaza Saloon, The Legion and Spike's Keg-O-Nails. We warn our daughters, "now don't talk to the Guards" and their wives in turn tell them somewhere down in Indiana or Ohio or wherever they come from as they climb aboard the headlighted slow convoys heading north, "now don't talk to the local girls". And not very much of either happens.

This is a land where we need not cultivate flowers although some of us do. And often the most spectacular display of color and variety lie just at the edge of our yards and sometimes creep into them. The Wild Daisies, Violets, Indian Paintbrush, Buttercups, Lady Slippers, Wild Roses, Arbutus, Bracken and Wintergreen have little real competition among the domesticated plants. There is one however, that flourishes in our sandy soil and short summers, the Petunia. And each year we laboriously plant them along the main street through town, a ribbon of color that delights our residents as well as the thousands of tourists who pass through here each season.

This is the land of the Deer, the Otter, the Bear and the Great Bald Eagle. Here lives the Wild Mute Swan, the Red Shouldered Hawk, the endangered Kirtland Warbler that chooses the Grayling area from all the world in which to nest each year in its fragile battle to survive. Here is the black, yellow and white Evening Grosbeak to whom we feed tons of sunflower seeds each winter and the ridiculous Nutcracker who walks down the tree upside down. Goldfinches, Pine Siskins, Jays, Purple Finches, Downy Woodpeckers, Killdeer, Partridge, Wild Turkey and Whippoorwills. The list could go on and on. Our neighbors are the Mink, the Beaver, the Muskrat, the Black, Red and Grey Squirrels, the Raccoons, the bumbling Porcupine and the Great Horned Owl that lives by the stream.

We seldom see the Bear that live in the swamp. We stop at the Old Stump Pond to see the Canadian Geese, the myriad of

The Fatti Color Tours, The Fred Bear Museum Visitors, the Berry Pickers, the Hunters, the Snowmobilers, the Skiers, the Flyfishermen, the Baitfishermen, the Hikers, Trail Riders and Canoeists. All are here because of the land. All come to relax, breathe deep of our clean fresh air and sleep well in our cool summer nights.

That is what it is like to live and work at Rural Route One, Grayling, Mich.

GRAYLING, MICHIGAN — THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1976

From Our Corner...

This coming weekend will mark a first in 2 categories of Grayling's annual Winter Sports Carnival. This year is the first of the second half century in which Grayling has played host to the multitude of winter sports fans for their festival weekend.

The other first, and we are only going by our own knowledge — is the fact that it will be the first year Grayling has not selected a queen, whether to represent us only — or to participate in other contests.

In our melancholy way as we put our corner to bed, is the fact we are able to remember back to the days of the ice sculptures, like the photo on page one.

It is not with sadness or dejection that we speak — only we have to sit back and wonder if this is not the way our predecessors wished it to be — ice thrones, skating, skiing, tobogganing, winter fun for all.

Through the first 50 years many, many people in all walks of life participated in this endeavor — as we look out from our warm house — we see many, many enthusiastic citizens now carrying the torch for the future...

To all of you — the best — from our corner.

You sure can, if you'll follow these economy tips from NAPA.

Avoid fast starts.

Acceleration should be neither too fast nor too slow.

Drive smoothly.

Watch the traffic to avoid sudden stops or sudden bursts of power.

Drive a little slower.

The difference in travel time between 50 and 65 is very little. But, the difference in gas mileage is a lot.

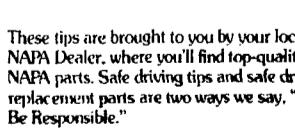

Stay tuned.

A properly tuned car will get up to 10% better mileage than a poorly tuned car. It will also create less pollution.

Stay safe.

Have your car inspected regularly for worn or damaged parts. Getting there economically is important. But, getting there safely is more important.

Stay safe.

A Tribute To Courage

Bob Griffin, Bob Anderson, Larry Latham and Bill Mackin stand in Des Moines, Iowa today as men of moral integrity and courage. Their company, the Meredith Corporation, began printing pornographic literature and showed utter disrespect and disregard for the morality of their employees.

Bill Mackin was suspended when he asked to be assigned to a job not involved with the dirty magazines. He said, "If the founder of this company were alive today, he would not only refuse to print this stuff, he would also object to its distribution throughout the country." Mackin had worked for the company for almost a quarter of a century. He added, "We're already known as 'sin city' because of all the triple X movies and massage parlors. This will make Des Moines become known as the fountain head of porno literature."

The Meredith company was the printer — publisher of such clean magazines as "Better Homes and Gardens," "Brides," and "Successful Farming," but now they have started printing magazines like "Penthouse" and "Viva" also.

Larry Latham was also suspended because he would not work with the pornographic materials.

He said, "I just felt, in doing my best to serve my God, I couldn't promote this material and handle it. I'd be completely out of His will if I did."

Bob Griffin and Bob Anderson both resigned and plan to start a small printing company of their own, "to do work for Christian people."

Mrs. J. J. Collen was the lucky one to draw the centerpiece made by Mrs. Flagg and raffled last week.

Last Saturday the mercury registered at 33 degrees at 10:00 a.m. and at 7:00 p.m. it was down to zero, where it remained until morning.

A. B. Failing has gone to Monroe, La., to look over his proposed situation with the Grayling Lumber Company in that city.

To The Cross Country Ski Fans:

By Gustav Konopnicki

Many of you probably feel that cross country skiing is here to stay. Grayling Winter Sports Association started a cross country ski program at Bear Mountain last year. I was asked to run it and after one season feel obliged to submit a report to you.

Season of 1974 to June 1975 (10 skiing weeks):

Revenues from rentals & instructions	$740.00
Expenses	300.00
Turned over to Gray. Winter Sports Assn.	440.00
Number of Rentals (skiers)	225
Number of skiers w/own skies visiting Bear Mt. trails	25
Volunteer hours spent	120
(my son Chris, daughter Gussy and myself)
Rental prices: day (adults)	$4.00
Instruction	2.00

(County residents pay half and children half of respective adult fees)

Season from June 1975 to January 1976:

Work on Bear Mountain trails (they existed since 1930's):
Camp Shawano boys invested 60 boy hours. The following people helped: Boys, girls and teachers (Mr. Delp and Mrs. Whall) from Grayling High School Goal program, teachers Ms. Morley and Olson and Mr. Woodland, Bill Greene (Standard Station), Bob Cole (Back Porch), two Grayling boy scout troops, Dave Avis, Dean Morford, Joanne, Jim and Ken Helmick (K-Lon Motel), Tom and Jim Gardner, Pete and Paul VanNook, Dwayne Wrona (Grayling V.W.), Jack Hull (Clark Station), Milton Mills, Leo Cavanaugh, Bear Archery, Summit Sports, Gambles, Cornell Realty, Dale Rhode (Recreational Motors), Joe Stripe, Dave Wyss, Jim Shepler and Richard Wiebel (Davis Jewelry), Arrowhead Inn, Michaywe of Gaylord, Greenwood Campground of Alger, Ranch Rudolph of Traverse City, Mike Parrent of Roscommon, Pat and Mike Steele of the Grayling Chamber of Commerce, my two sons - Chris and Alex, all of my friends that I might have missed but love, and most of all my wife, Beryl.

I have spent an estimated 200 hours cleaning, marking, painting, measuring and mapping the trails. In the last activity Jim Helmick took upon himself to update the map (now available), do all the cartographic work on it and cover the cost of printing.

To date (Jan. 14, '76) revenues from rentals $263.75

Expenses on trails & rental equipment	484.97
Persons renting skis	112

Marked increase in Grayling residents and especially children's participation.

Rental fees: Adults per day	$5.00
Rental fees: Adults per weekend	8.00
Rental fees: Adults per week	10.00
Instruction per person, per hour	2.00

Crawford County residents still pay half of above rates and children half of respective adult rates.

The trails (32 miles of them, but only 20 miles finished) have been used extensively.

January 10, 1976, cross country race fielded 35 competitors.

January 24, 1976, United States Ski Association Central Division Region III Championship had 38 racing.

As to the future, I hope to get community support for creating a Nordic Ski Center. Olympic Nordic events consist of: 1. Cross Country Racing, 2. Nordic Combine (racing and jumping), 3. Jumping, 4. Biathlon (cross country racing & target shooting).

We have trials for racing, but need biathlon and jumps to stage jumping and Nordic Combine.

Mr. Jack Alef came up with an idea of asking the Army Engineers to rebuild the jumps (they existed up to 1950). Mr. Alef, Mr. Steele and I are going to see General Johnson and Taylor of the Michigan Guard as soon as I get the plans for the jumps.

Grayling Winter Sports Festival experience for the blind is planned for February 7th.

Creation of a Nordic Center in Grayling will bring United States Ski Association Central Division Championships, Junior and Senior National Nordic championships, as well as possible international meets and Olympic trials. These events are hosted now in Lake Placid, NY, Cable, Wisc. Each event could bring thousands of competitors and spectators to Grayling.

Off the Record

If you're the kind who doesn't like to fly in airplanes, remember, the pilot wants to land just as safely as you do. Why not plan a lot of vacations—planning them doesn't cost anything. One waiter in town says he serves a lot of nuts—his customers. But then one of the world's most uncommon attributes is none other than common sense.

The Story of the Revolutionary War in the Old Northwest

By Gordon G. Beld

There was plenty of fear on both sides of the palisaded walls of the British post at Detroit during the Revolutionary War.

The redcoats at Detroit feared an attack by rebel forces might come at any moment. And American frontiersmen, particularly in the Kentucky settlements, lived in constant dread of attack by Indians sent out from Detroit.

The post, which was Britain's most important base in the West during the war, never was attacked by Americans. However, it wasn't because the colonies didn't have its capture in mind. Seemingly countless plans for assaults on Detroit were devised, but it never was possible to raise an adequate force for carrying them out.

Thus, not only did Great Britain control Detroit until the end of the war in 1783, but it kept its garrison at this western post for another 13 years before turning it over to the United States in 1796.

Nevertheless, the fear of an attack, particularly by troops of George Rogers Clark who succeeded in capturing posts elsewhere in the Northwest, was always present at Detroit. And besides fearing an assault by colonial forces from the outside, the British really didn't dare to turn their backs for long on their Indian allies or the French who were with them inside the settlement.

The lieutenant governor at Detroit, Henry Hamilton, wrote to a British officer in 1778: "When it is considered how many people in the settlement have connections with the Americans, it will not be surprising if the Virginians should have notice of anything projected against them from this Quarter and tho' a great deal if not everything depends upon secrecy I must not flatter myself 'twill be concealed (as it should) since an Indian for a gallon of Rum may be engaged to carry letters of intelligence."

After Hamilton was captured by Clark at Vincennes in February of 1779, there was even more concern about rebel sympathizers at Detroit. One of them, Grosse Pointe farmer James Cassity, was forced to leave the settlement for drinking to the success of the Americans and predicting that Clark would soon take the post.

Captain Richard Lernoult, in charge of Detroit after the capture of Hamilton, wrote in April 1779 that "the Canadians (French) are exceedingly amused on our bad success and weakness ... Not one of them will lend a hand ... All the Canadians are rebels to a man."

Clark claimed that he received military intelligence from spies in Detroit and Frederick Haldimand, governor general of Canada, warned Lernoult of enemies within the settlement.

He ordered the Detroit commandant to arrest any persons suspected of aiding the Americans and to send them in irons to Fort Niagara.

Clark's capture of Hamilton also drove a wedge between the British and the Indians. Tribes in the Wabash country announced that they would either join the rebels or remain neutral.

In the shadow of the palisades of the fort at Detroit the Wyandots declared that they would make peace with the Americans; and the Ottawa, Chippewa and Potawatomi indicated that they planned to have talks with the rebels.

But for the most part the Indians' service was retained by the British throughout the war, and the sight of them moving out for incursions against the frontier settlements was common to Detroiters. So, too, were the disheartening scenes when they returned clutching bloody scalps and herding haggard prisoners.

Indeed, Detroit was a thorn in the side of Americans who sought to gain control of the Northwest during the revolution. It was, as George Washington wrote, "... a constant source of trouble to the whole western country."

Not only did Detroit constitute a key position from which the British and Indian forces launched their land assaults against the colonists along the frontier, but it was also a base that enabled them to control the upper Great Lakes. All that took was a naval force of two armed schooners and three sloops. And not one of the sailors that manned the vessels in 1776 was a gunner.

The airman, now skilled in Air Force appropriation and mechanized accounting systems, is being assigned to Mountain Home AFB, Idaho, for duty with a unit of the Tactical Air Command.

Airman Harland, a 1972 graduate of Grayling High School, attended Michigan State University.

Dollars dominate in state capitol

The new year is underway in earnest in the Michigan state capitol.

The election-year version of the Michigan Legislature is back in harness, mulling over the state's problems and distilling possible solutions.

Gov. Milliken has delivered himself of the state-of-the-state message — in essence, things aren't so good, but they're getting better, and we'll have no new state taxes, by golly, this year — and then hid himself off for a short Caribbean vacation, which is better than the national average.

Top legislative Democrats, not to be outdone, have also delivered themselves of their own versions of state-of-the-state messages. They were proclaimed by Speaker Bobby Crim and Sen. William Fitzgerald — in essence, things aren't so good, but they're probably going to get better, and we'll probably have no major new state taxes, by golly, this year, although Crim, at least, would prefer the state income tax on a graduated basis, and he just may try to do something about it.

So the stage is set, and the annual drama is about to begin. Michigan state government is about to undergo another session of the Legislature.

We do this every year, of course. And this year, certain things should be kept in mind, if we're going to develop as seasoned legislative watchers.

Number one is that 1976 is an election year. Not everybody involved in the capitol struggle will be up for election this year, but enough of them will be striving for voter approval to warrant being kept in mind.

All 110 members of the state house are up for election in 1976. So are all 19 Michigan congressmen, and would-be congressmen, many of whom historically come from the ranks of the Legislature.

The governor won't be up for a new lease on the executive mansion, nor will members of the state senate have to face the voters. Three members of the state supreme court will be on the ballot, and one United States Senator will be selected, where incumbent Sen. Phil Hart won't be running again.

Of course, a president will be picked; and that always means a certain amount of infighting among backers of the various hopefuls. County officials will be picked, too.

All of these election-related facts will bear, one way and another, on what happens — or doesn't happen and how things are done — in the legislative process.

For another thing, the 1976 session of the legislature will center on the dollar sign. There's no way around it. Budgeting will be paramount.

Regardless of the brave words in January, by the time the budget-writing crunch arrives, a bit later in the year, only three alternatives will remain for the budget-writers in state government.

—Either 1. We're going to have more taxes.

—Or 2. We're going to have reduced services to the taxpayers.

—Or 3. We're going to have bigger government debt.

Other than these three alternatives, there is no way out for Michigan State government in 1976.

Perhaps the judgement day can be put off temporarily, by putting into effect certain budgetary gimmicks, such as moving tax dates, and diverting existing trust funds, or what have you. Perhaps even new budget gimmicks will emerge from bureaucratic or political dreams, again postponing temporarily the time of gut decision.

But fundamental truth is that government is designed to provide services to people ... to help people handle their problems. And government costs money. The more problems people have, the more money government costs.

Whether it should be that way is a good question; whether it can be any other way is another question.

But as of right now, that's just the way it is.

Bible can prove anything

Jesus Christ!

That's how I began a column a few weeks ago. It was a gimmick to catch the attention of the many Christians who ordinarily wouldn't read this nonsense unless they were in a strange town, wearing a plain brown wrapper.

My intention was to mildly rebuke those Christians who can't see over their Bibles and who would slam heaven's gates on everyone who has not seen the light of the Wednesday Evening Prayer Meeting. I had been turned off by a mid-western city which ran a Hindu sect out of town simply because it wasn't Christian. This didn't sound like Jesus Christ to me.

I expected some adverse response to that column, but this is ridiculous. I am up to my fanny in Bible quotations and religious pamphlets. I have been accused of being everything from a Jew to a Jehovah's Witness to a Communist spy.

And I have been told I am so dumb I "do not know Catholics and Protestants are not Christians." Huh?

The letter-writers who amaze me are those who can go on for 12 pages, single-spaced, and not write one sentence that makes sense. They are quoting the Bible. I can tell because every few paragraphs they switch to capital letters and write something like: HEBREWS 9:39, Verse 25. Very impressive.

I studied the Bible for 2 semesters at Mich State University. This was a Literature course, not Religion, which is probably where I went wrong. Also, it was an easy course — there were 3 football players in it. So I certainly don't claim to be a Bible scholar. Let's just say I read the book, many years ago, and enjoyed it. It was a hell of a lot better than the movie.

But the Bible didn't change my life. It didn't save me. And it didn't make me think any more highly of such living legends as Oral Roberts (he was preaching on the Mike Douglas TV show the other day and I thought he was reading my mail).

I think a man who has never read the Bible, or never been inside a church, can be "saved," whatever that might mean to him or to you. And I think some of the great Bible-thumping church-goers can be "lost," and good riddance to bad rubbish, as the neighborhood kids used to chant.

The important criteria is how a man lives his life and how he treats EVERYONE he bumps into on his way to church — or on his way to the bowling alley.

It's just the old-fashioned Golden Rule. If a man lives by it and also goes to church, he's got all bets covered and I'm all for him. Some of the nicest people I know go to church and then come home and tell me what I missed. God bless them.

But to each his own. The good man who doesn't go for organized religion, who shrugs off the Bible, is still a good man. Yes, even if he's an atheist. And if he's broad-minded enough not to bug the Bible fans, they should return the courtesy.

Most people who sent me bushels of quotes from the Bible usually added: "You probably won't read this." Right. I've already read it all and it's no use.

Skillful people can use Bible quotes to prove most anything, and they've done it to me many times. Usually they "prove" it's sinful for whites to mix with blacks, or to dance, or to see a movie, or enjoy sex. And so on.

My answer is always the same. If the Bible really says such dumb things, the Bible is wrong. No big deal. A lot of books are wrong. The Bible is printed in ink, not carved in a cloud.

Organized religion, going by the book, can accomplish marvelous things. It can also help put Lebanon and Ireland on the 6 o'clock news, soaked in blood.

Jesus Christ!

Frederic Elementary News

Kindergarten kids have been working in learning centers since Christmas vacation. The children are eager to do the work available in each center. They are doing printing, art work, numbers, ABC activities and much more at the centers. The children are showing good progress in self discipline in their centers.

Once a week, older students, who are members of the reading club, will be given a kindergarten student to tutor. Club members have been busy planning activities that would help teach ABC's, language, and numbers. Tutors make up lessons and get their materials ready before Mrs. McEver's students arrive. The club spent a lot of time learning how to be good tutors.

Pal Geiss spent a week in our Resource program assisting the kids with many activities. Miss Geiss is attending Central Michigan University.

"We hope she comes back again. We'll remember what we learned from her. We wish she was always here to help us. We'll show her how smart we are by spring time."

Fifteen fourth graders started division. Right now they are easy but soon they will be getting harder.

The Crawford County Avalanche

Dear Whitey:

It gave us great pleasure to read your editorial corner in the January 23rd of that great northern newspaper called The Crawford County Avalanche.

Your splendid editorial gave mention of the dinner given by the Grayling State Bank honoring Jack Alef for 25 years of employment with the Bank. You further outline Jack's 25 years of service to the City of Grayling and Crawford County.

We heartily endorse this action and the fact that Jack indeed has given far and beyond the call of duty for the president of any bank to have given to his community. Double measure has been received by the Community as Grayling State Bank certainly gave strong support to Jack in his community endeavors.

No one will ever know just how many crises in the community that Jack has become involved in ... how often he has been the intermediator for different factions of the community ... how often he has given of his advice and counsel ... his shoulders have been very broad.

You ask how we know all of this ... we used very heavily from that human resource called Jack Alef for some 12 years and without him, we would never have made it.

For 25 years Jack Alef has been an integral part of Grayling and Crawford County ... let's hope that they will have him as an outstanding leader for another 25 years.

Chum and Marilyn Longworth

your week ahead

BY DR. A.W. DAMIS

Forecast Period: February 8 to February 14

Avoid making a phone call that you know will upset you emotionally and disrupt your daily routine. For now, silence is golden!

A definite change in attitude, toward the opposite sex, shows in your chart for many older members of your sign.

Those under your sign, unattached, should anticipate overtures from an unexpected source: things are favorable in affairs of the heart.

Platonic associates and people who like to talk, seem to dominate your chart. This week might be "exciting," in a dull sort of way.

It might seem like stock advice, nonetheless, re-read documents before you sign. Being misled by printed matter is indicated.

Don't let first impressions fool you! A member of the opposite sex, so it seems, is determined to deceive you.

Most members of your sign tend to be in a free-wheeling mood, as far as finances are concerned.

Two things show in your chart: There's added responsibility on the way, and having your way with the opposite sex.

Diplomacy, this week, won't be one of your strong points. Guard your words, especially with close associates, and loved ones.

Remember, one ship sails East another West...with the same wind. It isn't the gale, but the set of the sail—that determines the direction we take.

Take care when discussing a problem with someone in authority. Apparently, you're in the mood to provoke a superior.

Don't depend on help or cooperation. Especially, when surrounded by associates whom you know oppose you, secretly.

City Council Proceedings

Regular meeting of the City Council held Monday, January 26, 1976 at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by Mayor McEvers.

Members present: Golnick, Hanson, Thompson, McEvers. Member absent: Knight. Also in attendance: Jerry W. Morford, City Manager; Allen V. Schremer, City Treasurer; Larry Akers, Thomas R. Welsh II, Harold R. Heyil and Lee Crull of H.S. & B General Contractor, Inc. and John Bosserman.

Motion by Golnick, supported by Hanson that the minutes of the meeting January 12, 1976 be approved as presented. Ayes: 4, Nays: 0, Absent: 1, motion carried.

NEW BUSINESS:

The public hearing on the rezoning of the Grayling Country Club property was declared open. Mr. Morford detailed the history of the rezoning of the property from R-1 to R-2. The hearing was to discuss a change from R-2 back to the original R-1. Mr. Morford read a letter from Robert Schwarz stating that the Country Club Board opposed the return to R-1 zoning. Mr. Morford recommended the rezoning back to R-1 in order to avoid "spot" zoning of an area with no adequate access, due to the fact that the previous plans for a nursing home with adequate access, have been abandoned.

Motion by McEvers, supported by Golnick that the area in question described as: "Commencing at the East 1/4 corner of Section 18, T26N, R 3W, thence S89°21'W along EW 1/4 line 433.3 feet to point of beginning; thence continuing S89°21'W 883.35 feet to 1/8 line; thence N 155°30'W along 1/8 line 495.0 feet; thence N89°21'E to a point 433.0 feet west of the east Section Line of said Section 18; thence S1°53'W to point of beginning. Being part of the S 1/4 of the SE 1/4 of NE 1/4 of Section 18, T26N, R 3W, Grayling Township, Crawford County, Michigan and contains 10.0 acres" be rezoned to R-1 as recommended, with the understanding that reconsideration of the area may be needed in the future if and when there are specific development plans for the area. Ayes: 4, Nays: 0, Absent: 1, motion carried.

COMMUNICATIONS AND PETITIONS:

MDSH re: Major street criteria.

MML re: Upcoming Legislative Conference.

CITIZENS WHO WISHED TO SPEAK:

Ms. Vina Walker and Mr. Roger Knell appeared to discuss the use of property at 702 Elm Street for an adult convalescent home.

Mr. Morford read a letter which he had sent to Ms. Walker relative to this matter. Ms. Walker detailed some of her problems and asked for council help. Mr. Morford explained that the only two ways that this can be accomplished are: a. Rezoning hearing or b. Zoning Board of Appeals determination of interpretation of the Ordinance. A Zoning Board of Appeals meeting will be scheduled upon written request of Ms. Walker.

NEW BUSINESS:

Bids for remodeling of the old fire station were received from:

1. H.S. & B General Contractors of St. Clair Shores, Mi. 5% Bid Bond Accompanied - $16,900.00. 2. P. H. Williams & Son, Inc. of Birmingham, Mi. 10% Bid Bond Accompanied - $16,000.00. Mr. Morford recommended that both bids be tabled for review by himself and the engineer by the February 9, 1976 meeting. Moved by Hanson, supported by Golnick that bids be tabled to the February 9, 1976 meeting for review and recommendation by the City Manager. Ayes: 4, Nays: 0, Absent: 1, motion carried.

OLD BUSINESS:

The 1976 Street Construction Program was discussed. Mr. Morford showed Council a map displaying four different programs of paving. He recommended a combination of parts of two of these programs as follows: 1. Peninsular Street from Ottawa to Lake Street. 2. Lake Street from I-75 B.L. to Maple Street. 3. Maple Street from Michigan Ave. to I-75 B.L. 4. Ottawa Street from Peninsular to Maple Street. 5. Spruce Street from Michigan Ave. to Ottawa Street. This program is estimated to cost approximately $242,000. Motion by Golnick, supported by Hanson that the city be authorized to proceed with the engineering plans for the stated program for bid in early spring. Ayes: 4, Nays: 0, Absent: 1, motion carried.

Mr. Morford reported on a meeting with MDSH on their 1976 program in Grayling.

Discussion was held on the 1975 water system improvement program. The engineers were here on January 26, 1976 to make the test borings for the water storage tank site.

Possible new water structure for Elmwood Cemetery was presented to council. The cemetery consistently costs more to operate than the revenues generated and the new structure is to try to minimize the losses. Motion by Golnick, supported by McEvers, that the cemetery water structure be tabled until the February 23 meeting to allow review and discussion with Grayling Township. Ayes: 4, Nays: 0, Absent: 1, motion carried.

Mr. Morford reported that Parcel "A" will be brought up at the February DNR Commission meeting. He received this information from Troy Yoder of the DNR.
